

15:55:31 From Jonathan Russell-Anelli to Everyone:

I thought the proposal was about whether we should move forward on distance learning, rather than how it will be accomplished. Are the questions about details of how such a program will be implemented or whether we should "do" distance learning...

15:55:35 From Risa Lieberwitz to Everyone:

We need much more than 5 minutes for discussion on this issue of a possible part-time program.

15:55:52 From Wendy Wilcox (she/her) to Everyone:

I don't understand why only 5 minutes for discussion

15:56:07 From Courtney Roby to Everyone:

Absolutely, Risa and Wendy, especially given we have 10 minutes on pools!

15:56:15 From Jonathan Russell-Anelli to Everyone:

thanks for the info Mark

15:57:07 From Mark Milstein to Everyone:

Need to get back to class - thank you, everyone, for your time today. If there are follow up questions for CAPP, please feel free to email me at mm462 and I'll be happy share those with the committee.

15:57:22 From Beth Milles to Everyone:

Thank you Mark!

16:03:12 From Myles Gideon - IRB Manager to Everyone:

Feel free to contact me directly with any questions, as well: mbg223@cornell.edu.

16:03:27 From Adam Anderson to Everyone:

Thank you Myles!

16:25:48 From Roxanne Marino to Everyone:

Very nice presentation Ashleigh, thank you

16:26:10 From Marcus Smolka to Everyone:

I fully support!

16:26:49 From Itziar Rodriguez de Rivera to Everyone:

Well said, Ashleigh!

16:26:51 From - Connie Yuan 袁郁/圆玉 to Everyone:

Thanks for a great presentation. I fully support it too.

16:28:01 From Kent Hubbell to Everyone:

CAPE members discussed the pool issue this a.m. and is in enthusiastic support of this proposal....Kent Hubbell

16:29:01 From Steven Jackson to Everyone:

I'm also in strong support of this proposal. Cornell pools are truly substandard vis-a-vis peers and local peers like IC. (My kids swam on local swim teams and were always sorry when scheduled for Cornell owing to the poor facilities vis-a-vis IC). +1 to Ashleigh's points about health and wellbeing effects. I know many students (and faculty!) who use swimming as a central resource and support.

16:29:47 From Roberto Bertoia to Everyone:

I strongly support this proposal. It is long overdue!

16:30:30 From Sherry Colb to Everyone:

Truly excellent presentation!

16:32:02 From Doug Antczak to Everyone:

Regarding moving the pools up the priority list, remember that when the Cornell Athletic Director was a former track star, a new outdoor track was built, and when the AD was a former wrestler, a new wrestling pavilion appeared. Maybe we need a former swimmer as our new Athletic Director?

16:32:06 From Beth Milles to Everyone:

Thank you, Risa.(it was 2009-10)

16:33:06 From Richard Bensel to Everyone:

I wonder how much money is being spent on Cornell Tech...a very minor fraction would fund the pools.

16:33:42 From Ashleigh Newman to Everyone:

Thank you everyone. If you are interesting in co-sponsoring or suggesting amendments, please email me: alw43@cornell.edu. It is our goal to receive feedback and bring this up for a vote next month.

16:46:15 From Alex Nading to Everyone:

It seems to me that students of color and first gen students already have lots of experience "out of their comfort zone"

16:49:16 From Doug Antczak to Everyone:

I think we should keep the swim test. Although it may be stressful for some students, the test requirement is also an opportunity for all Cornell students to achieve at least a modest level of competency in an important life skill.

16:51:33 From Wendy Wilcox (she/her) to Everyone:

What is the cost of taking the PE 1100 course?

16:52:41 From Malte Ziewitz to Everyone:

What do students think about the requirement, especially those who come to Cornell not being able to pass the test “out of the gate”?

16:52:43 From Alex Nading to Everyone:

I also think we should be careful about the “saving” students of color narrative, too. It resonates in disturbing ways with the rationale of Native American boarding schools and colonial education

16:54:41 From Wendy Wilcox (she/her) to Everyone:

Also agree with this point Alex.

16:55:01 From Adam Anderson to Everyone:

Good point Alex

16:55:36 From Ryan Lombardi to Everyone:

@Wendy. I was just able to confirm there is no additional cost to enroll in PE 1100: Beginning Swimming.

16:55:58 From Adam Anderson to Everyone:

Thanks Wendy that is good to hear

16:56:21 From Adam Anderson to Everyone:

I mean Ryan!

16:56:42 From Wendy Wilcox (she/her) to Everyone:

Thanks Ryan. Glad to hear that the lessons are not a barrier.

16:57:24 From Roxanne Marino to Everyone:

Can students who feel they can't pass the swim test enroll in PE1100 first, and then take the test? This might alleviate some of the stress over the test, and accomplish helping students with more comfortably learning an important life skill?

16:59:42 From Wendy Wilcox (she/her) to Everyone:

I still worry that students of color feel a certain ostracization of having to take a PE course that perhaps their counterparts can opt out of because of access to pools and swim lessons.

17:00:04 From Ryan Lombardi to Everyone:

@Roxanne. Yes they can.

17:00:13 From Richard Bensel to Everyone:

Hmm...That resolution does not in any way involve a legal question. And five months for a legal opinion, if it did, is absurd.

17:00:30 From Courtney Roby to Everyone:

Send them where?
